DETAILED ACTION

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(c), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(c) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on 3/23/09 has been entered.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claim 60 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 60 is dependent on a previously withdrawn claim, and as such is indefinite. Correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

Claims 38, 39, 44-51, 53, 73-76, and 81-83 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over the combined disclosures of Glorioso et al (USPN 5,858,355 hereafter '355). The claims are drawn to method of inhibiting cartilage degradation in a joint comprising delivering to the joint a composition comprising two chondroprotective agents.

The '355 patent discloses a method of treating cartilage damage via direct injections to the knee of a patient in need (col. 6, lin. 35-50). The formulation comprises genetic material that encodes for a cytokine such as TGF beta 1 and 2 and at least an interleukin receptor antagonist (col. 18, lin. 65-col. 19, lin. 18). These compounds also are known for treating inflammation (Example IV). The composition can be used to the treatment of arthritis (Example XIII). Regarding the time of application of the formulation, whether it is before or after a cartilage injury or trauma, it is the position of the Examiner that such limitation would be obvious in view of the prior art. The compound can be used to either prevent or further treat arthritis via injections (examples).

With these things in mind it would have been obvious to treat a wide range of degenerative disorders including arthritis. One of ordinary skill in the art would have been motivated to treat damaged cartilage before or after injury in order to provide the desired treatment.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 38, 39, 44-51, 53, 60, 73-76 and 81-83 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.
